Attorneys need to get their Medicaid knowledge in to shape to help families with care for aging parents, partners and loved ones! Medicaid Boot Camp Comes to Clinton Township April 9 and to Gaylord April 19!

The highly regarded Elder Law of Michigan Medicaid Boot Camp is back! As families in our state face challenges paying for daily care for aging parents, partners, and loved ones, attorneys, financial advisors and social workers need thorough information on how the Medicaid program works for senior citizens. Elder Law of Michigan, a non-profit organization has partnered with attorneys Michele Palmer Fuller (Shelby Township) and Sanford Mall (Farmington Hills), to bring in Michigan Medicaid Expert David Shaltz to lead a full day seminar April 9, 2010 in Clinton Township and April 19 in Gaylord. Registration information is on-line at www.elderlawofmi.org/training.

Past Medicaid Boot Camp attendees rave:

“David did an excellent job explaining the technical details of the Medicaid program. Good balance between information and some of the more complex issues, particularly those related to assets.”

Maureen Sorbet, L&S Associates

“It was one of the best seminars I’ve attended and provided me with the level of detail I needed,”

Kim Winokur, Esq., Law Offices of Kim Winokur PLC

Attorney David Shaltz

speakers to bring the rest of us up to speed, and to confirm or deny all the Medicaid urban myths,”

Rebecca McClear, Esq.

Elder Law of Michigan has added Continuing Education (CE) Credit for Social Workers to the curriculum.

Participants will receive Elder Law of Michigan's Primer of Michigan's Medicaid Program that reflects all the recent changes in Michigan's Medicaid program. With health care reform on the horizon, it is an important learning opportunity for professionals working with older adults.

Profits from the event will support the Legal Hotline for Michigan Seniors, a free service that assists over 6,000 older adults and family caregivers each year in Michigan. Older adults with legal questions or who are struggling to make ends meet can call the Legal Hotline at 800-347-5297. In addition to free legal advice, the Legal Hotline's Benefit Enrollment Center screens older adults of modest means for programs that can help with the costs of medical expenses, prescription drugs, food, utilities, employment and other important services. All services are conveniently provided over the telephone.
