

MICHIGAN LAW CENTER

Michele P. Fuller is the founder of Michigan Law Center, P.L.L.C. and Advocacy, Inc., a non-profit corporation. Located in Shelby Township, Michigan, her probate practice focuses on elder law, special needs planning, and post-settlement planning. She is a frequent presenter for attorneys, paralegals, service providers and parent groups and regularly publishes articles for probate and trial lawyers on special needs trust and settlement issues.

Michele is involved in organizations at the local, state and national levels. She serves as Treasurer of the Macomb County Probate Bar Association and editor and contributor to its quarterly publication. At the state level, she is a council member for the Elder Law and Disability Rights Section (ELDRS) of the State Bar of Michigan and is integrately involved in reforming the currently pending Pooled Trust Act. Michele is an active member of the National Academy of Elder Law Attorneys (NAELA) and Academy of Special Needs Planners (ASNP). Michele regularly contributes to the ASNP Special Needs Settlement Planning bi-monthly newsletter. Most recently she was a presenter at the Academy of Special Needs Planners annual conference and is a presenter for webinars on special needs planning for its members. She was also elected co-chair of the settlement planning committee, is a member of the model trust committee, and is representing the Academy as an exhibitor at the American Association for Justice national conference this summer.

Michele is honored to serve as the Director of Advocacy, Inc., a non-profit corporation dedicated to serving individuals with disabilities. Advocacy, Inc. offers special needs trust administration services of all types of special needs trusts. She is also a long standing member of the Michigan Association for Justice.

After graduating with Honors as a member of the James Madison College at Michigan State University and has a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations. Michele then attended American University International Law Masters program and obtained her Juris Doctor from the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law.
